

Fred wears two hats, even in the summer

Tiffany Martinez is a school psychologist but she goes way above her duties to help serve students, parents and teachers. She does her evaluations and often interprets for Spanish speaking families at their meetings. I just met Tiffany this summer when she volunteered to interpret for me so I could complete an evaluation on a student from a Spanish speaking family. The job of interpreting is usually done by an interpreter who gets paid to do this. Tiffany is able to help things happen more quickly for schools and students by offering to wear two hats by both interpreting and doing her school psych evaluations. She was very helpful in getting information to me on a student this summer (again not her job but she did it to help out) and by interpreting. She said she just does it because she can. I think Tiffany is a wonderful asset to the school system and hope that she will be recognized for going above and beyond in helping our students!

Submitted By: Karen Kobryn, Occupational Therapist