

Mrs. Jennifer Cox at Garden Springs Elementary does an excellent job communicating with the parents and making the children feel special. She sends home a folder daily with smiley faces colored in by the children with different colors representing how their day went. I look forward to looking at it each day. At the end of the week, she sends home a weekly chart to show how the kids did that week. She teaches kindergarten and makes the transition from preschool to kindergarten not as bad. The kids love her. Both my kids were lucky enough to get Mrs. Cox as their teacher. She loves children and it shows! She also sends home weekly newsletters recapping the week and letting us know what to expect the upcoming week! She has done a wonderful job teaching my child so far. I was nervous about how she would do in school, but have been pleasantly surprised so far! Olivia actually comes home wanting to do homework.
