

Ms. Becky Russell, a third grade teacher at Clays Mill Elementary, has gone over and beyond what is expected from a classroom teacher. Recently, I was hospitalized for several weeks. During this time my three daughters missed a week of school. When they returned from out of town Ms. Russell took care of contacting each of their teachers to gather the work they had missed. That week she came to our house and tutored the girls until they were caught up on their work. Not only did she work with my daughter in her third grade class she also studied and did a lab project with my fifth-grader. I don't know how we could have made it through this difficult time without her.
