

Keneeva Hurt and the food service staff at Julia R. Ewan Elementary showed extreme kindness and concern for two new students who enrolled late in the day and missed lunch. Not only were these students new to our school, they were new to this country. They came here from a refugee camp in Tanzania and they speak no English. Lunch service was over and the food service staff was having their lunch break. After learning these children had not eaten lunch, I took them to the cafeteria to see if by chance there was anything they could eat. The food service staff was so helpful and concerned about these children. Several of them jumped up to help make sure these children were given food they would eat and the kind of milk they would drink. They were so kind and generous to the family as well as their sponsors. I was so proud to have such a warm and inviting team welcoming this family to our school and cafeteria. Keneeva was so eager to take care of these children, the thought of how they were going to pay for their lunch did not even enter her mind. Keneeva Hurt and the entire food service team at Julia R. Ewan are the best! They truly understand and take to heart what it means when we say "It's About Kids" Thanks so much!
