

Sydney Durham is a new English teacher at Paul Laurence Dunbar High this year. She is also an active member of the Navy reserves. If that isn't enough, she also agreed to be the sponsor of the Speech Team when no one else stepped up to take on the weekend commitments involved with this extracurricular activity. It is such an inspiration to see her involved and dedicated so fully to her students, her school, and her country. She is an amazing addition to our school.
