

Fred sightings

On the final day before Christmas break, our son came home so excited that he had won a Champs gift card during the class party, only to realize he had forgotten to pick it up from Lynn Schaffer before he left class at Beaumont Middle School. We would have to wait until school resumed in January to get it. That is until our doorbell rang around 5:30 that evening. When my husband answered the door, it was Mrs. Schaffer! She had realized Will had forgotten to pick up his gift card and thought he might want to use it during the break. She not only had to take the time to look up where we lived, but figure out where it was and then bring the card to us. ... What a message she sent to him.
