

UK's Engineers Day could pay off big

Fayette County students who are interested in engineering have a shot at a new $4,000 scholarship to the University of Kentucky.

UK's College of Engineering is offering the scholarship as part of Engineers Day Open House. A current middle or high school student will win it during the annual e-day event, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 23 on the Lexington campus.

And that's just part of e-day excitement!

Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) contests, exhibits and tours are on the agenda, too, as students from across Kentucky learn about UK and engineering.

The open house will span several buildings on campus. The central registration area is in the Ralph G. Anderson building on Administration Drive; use the Gate 1 entrance off of Limestone Street.

For more details about Engineers Day, go to www.engr.uky.edu/eday.