

Ewan students ‘Have a Heart’ for animals

Stephanie Plumlee’s fifth-graders at Julia R. Ewan Elementary School decided to “Have a Heart” during February and donate to the Lexington Humane Society.

“We appreciate the fact that the Lexington Humane Society is a non-profit humane agency caring for more than 12,000 animals in our community each year,” Plumlee said. “We wanted to do what we could to help them in their efforts to eradicate animal cruelty, advocate compassion, educate, heal, represent hope and provide Lexington with safe, loving shelter and benevolent care for all of its animals in need.”

Since the Lexington Humane Society relies solely on private donations, Plumlee’s students copied the “wish list” from its Web site. They brought in bedding, bleach, paper towels, rubbing alcohol, hamster food, dog food, leashes, collars, kitty litter and cash donations.
