

I called IAKSS to ask about the Infinite Campus e-mail I received. Doug Gibson was out of his office, and the only message I left was my name, the question and a statement that I would call again -- no contact information. Before 11 a.m. the following day, I received an e-mail from Mr. Gibson answering my question. I have no idea how many hoops he had to jump through to obtain my e-mail address, but the effort he made was certainly "Fred"-like.
