

We had super-high expectations of what we wanted for our daughter's kindergarten experience. We hoped for a teacher who would be caring, nurturing and consistent and communicate well with the parents. Jill Myers exceeded our expectations – with a postcard before school started, a phone call the first week of school, a video of the students showing their daily routine during orientation, constant communication and a true passion for teaching. Cassidy Elementary is fortunate to have Myers on staff; we were blessed to have her as our daughter's very first teacher.
