

Class of 2008 headed far and wide

The 1,924 students who graduated from Fayette County's five area high schools in June garnered more than $17.6 million in scholarships and have fanned out to universities, colleges and technical schools around the globe. This fall, our graduates are attending school in countries across three continents. Here in the United States, we are sending Lexington's finest to every Ivy League school and dozens of other top 100 colleges and universities. Read the list of schools where our grads are headed.