

Ursula Mullins of Picadome Elementary lets the kids know that they are important human beings. We have many times seen her at the South Lexington baseball fields to watch her students play ball, even though she herself has no children playing there. To see the kids' faces when they see her in the stands is priceless.

-- Submitted by Marchelle Forish, parent