

Kudos

To Taylor Steele of Henry Clay High School, who brought home second-place national honors from the Technology Student Association's national conference in Orlando, Fla., this summer. He won a trophy for his work in computer-aided architectural design animation.