

A student at SCAPA Bluegrass took out his lip bumper and laid it on his tray to eat lunch, but then accidentally threw it away. Custodian James Florence went outside to the dumpster and searched through trash bags to recover it for the boy, who wrote him a thank-you note on the first day of school.
-- Submitted by Marilyn Cunningham, principal at SCAPA Bluegrass